LUNDAHL'S GUARDIAN

Pitiful Case of Young Dane.

PRISONERS ARE ARRAIGNED

Attorneys Appointed by Court Must Have Fees for Defending Penniless Clients.

Friends of Carl Lundahl, the young Dane who was recently committed to the Insane Asylum suffering from melancholia and possessed of a desire for giving his money away to friends and strangers alike, appeared in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon, where the petition of P. Selander to be appointed as the young man's guardian was presented. Bereft of his ordinarily healthy mind and showing unmistakable signs of the ravages which his brain disease has produced in his body, Lundahl was brought into court by one of the asylum keepers. The petition of Selander was read, in which it was stated that Lundahl was possessed of considerable cash, amounting to nearly $1,500.

The keeper of the asylum was put on the stand and said that it was only at times that Lundahl appeared to be suffering from his malady. He had strange hallucinations and believed that there was a conspiracy against him and that he was in mortal danger. At other times he wanted to get rid of his money. Dr. Herbert was of the opinion that Lundahl should have a guardian.

At this juncture the Judge read a memorial from P. Jorgenson and S. Paulson, two of Lundahl's friends, protesting against the appointment of Selander as guardian. Their evidence showed that they were seeking the young man's best interests, and they did not approve of Mr. Selander as a capable guardian. The Judge was impressed with Mr. Selander, however, and thanked him for carrying out the will of Lundahl, who, having had a premonition of the fate which befell him, had confided in Selander and told him of his financial and domestic affairs and requested him to look after them if anything happened to him. As Mr. Selander was not possessed of property, the Judge was of the opinion that in such a pitiable case as that before him a guardian should be appointed from among men who were personally known to the court, and he thereupon appointed P. Danson Kellet, clerk of the court, as such guardian, under a $2,000 bond.

Lundahl yesterday enjoyed one of his lucid periods and said upon the witness stand that he had $1,000 in a draft which he had intended sending to a young lady in San Francisco for safe-keeping. He volunteered the information that she was his "best girl" and could be trusted with the amount. He also stated that he had $400 in the Germania Bank of San Francisco.

ATTORNEYS MUST BE PAID.

Attorneys who are appointed by the court to defend prisoners not already provided with legal advisers may take hope from statements made by the Circuit Judge yesterday that in future they will be paid for such services. The matter was brought to the attention of the few members of the bar who were lounging in the court room, when the case of Kewiki, charged with larceny in the second degree, against whom a true bill of indictment was brought by the Grand Jury, was called for. Kewiki is an Hawaiian youth and when made to stand before the Circuit Judge, no one, not even his father or mother, were in the room. The Judge asked whether he had a lawyer and a negative answer was given. He said his father worked at Ewa. The Judge ordered that a subpoena be issued for the father commanding his presence in court on Monday next.

As to an attorney, he said emphatically that the father must see that he receives a fee, and Mr. Peters was appointed to defend the case. The Judge said that it was not right for the families and friends to expect that the lawyers should defend their errant relatives and not provide the means with which to conduct the defense. Under this ruling of the court it is quite possible that in future arraignments of offenders will be provided with legal counsel before being brought to trial, rather than have lawyers who may not be to their liking provided for them at the eleventh hour. In many cases the friends of evil-doers may find it to their advantage to follow this plan rather than wait for the Judge to appoint the most expensive lawyer in the room. Kewiki will enter his plea this morning.

DEFENDANTS ARE ARRAIGNED.

The Circuit Court took up the arraignment of persons against whom the Grand Jury recently brought in true bills of indictment. None of the cases have any great prominence in criminology, being mostly larceny cases. In the afternoon the case of F. D. Haskell, larceny second degree, was taken up. He said his attorney was Mr. Creighton but that he had not heard from him and did not know what he should do. The Judge requested the clerk to inform Mr. Creighton that he had a case pending in the court and to appear promptly this morning to defend his client.

B. Snodgrass, a soldier from Camp McKinley, charged with the larceny of a bicycle, stated to the court that C. W. Bittling had been retained as his counsel last year. He said Mr. Bittling had promised to have him out of the prison on a bond before Christmas but had failed to do so for some reason. Snodgrass said he had addressed a letter to his lawyer some time ago but had received no answer from him. A peremptory request was sent from the bench ordering Mr. Bittling to appear in court this morning when his client will plead to the charge.

COURT NOTES.

The trial jury of the Circuit Court will not be required to be present at the court until Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The Circuit Judge made the order late yesterday afternoon.

John H. Pierce, a former attorney in Indiana and Kansas, was yesterday admitted to the practice of law in the District and Circuit Courts at chambers on appeal for two years.

An inventory was filed in the Circuit Court yesterday of the estate of B. F. Steigmann, deceased. There is no real estate or money, but the personal property, consisting of stock in the store lately owned by decedent valued at $2,000 and household furniture in the family residence in Christley Lane valued at $50.

John Paoakalani has filed in the Circuit Court a receipt for $25.70 from F. J. Testa, who was appointed by the First Circuit Judge to act in the place of Jos. Heleluhe, former trustee, since deceased. The recent appointment was made for the purpose of withdrawing certain deposits in the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank belonging to Paoakalani, which stood in the name of the former trustee.

Fred L. Waldron, administrator of the estate of J. Hutchings, deceased, filed an inventory of the estate yesterday in the Circuit Court, giving the assets at $12,130.02 and liabilities at $4,038.88, leaving a net valuation of $8,091.14.

Emma Smith was granted a divorce yesterday from Wm. Smith on the ground of desertion.

The Bartlett divorce case was renewed yesterday morning when Attorney Ballou for the plaintiff presented authorities wherein he desired to show that sufficient cause for granting the divorce had been given. The Circuit Judge, however, dismissed the matter as on the day previous.

The Common Opinion.

Editor Advertiser:—One cannot help feeling disgusted with the miserable bluff the Republican is trying to put up in defense of the action of its editor, Mr. Gill.

The abuse of another man is no argument in his favor, and such filthy remarks as were used in the editorial columns this morning only show up the low character of the writer.

Of course it is only natural that the Republican will defend its editor, but the least it could do would be to defend him in a manly fashion and not resort to low-down abuse that does no good to either side.

Mr. Gill has broken the law in a serious manner and must take the consequences. Whether he was justified in his action or not remains yet to be proved.

As far as we know Mr. Gill was struck for some reason by an unnamed man and resorted to his revolver, putting a ball into his opponent's body.

All this "shilly-shally" abuse is not going to alter facts, and the sooner more decent news is published instead the better it will be for the community at large, for who wants to read such disgusting articles as were printed this morning? C. J. H.
